The War Today...

By DeWitt MacKenzie
AP War Analyst

PREDICTION:—When this war is over we shall be able to identify many of the Jap officers who tortured our Bataan heroes to death. Then the Mikado's barbarians shall pay!

Nazi Germany generally works in its efforts to sow seeds of dissension among the United Nations, but Argentina's rupture with Hitler has brought into the open none less than Foreign Minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop—one of the dozen most dangerous men alive today.

This former wine salesman is both smart and ruthless. He is credited with persuading Hitler to defy England and attack Poland in 1939. Yesterday Von Ribbentrop, posing as one more in sorrow than in anger, flung a two-barbed spear into the Allied camp. It wasn't Germany who was the loser by Argentina's action, he said, but Argentina itself and poor old England. "The Argentine government is not master of its own decisions any longer," and Britain which already "has been compelled to sacrifice the major part of her central and South American interests to the United States ally," now "is going to lose her position in Argentina."

Von Ribbentrop's soliloquy for England is touching. He lived long in Britain and Canada and speaks English so flawlessly as to be accused of talking German with an English accent. Yet something embittered him against the British so greatly he forewore use of the tongue.

Von Ribbentrop's propaganda yesterday is a perfect example of the use of the weapon upon which Hitler is gambling desperately to save his skin. While the Nazi armies fight a suicidal delaying action on all fronts, Der Fuehrer strives to cause a split among the Allies.

Von Ribbentrop fancies his own importance will give weight to his words. But in this case he has made a statement which to the Argentine or Briton or American is the essence of absurdity.

Argentina knows she hasn't surrendered anything to the United States, and she knows this country has no desire to intrude. There is a friendly rivalry between British and American business interests for trade in Central and South America. So far as concerns the Argentine, however, Britain and the big South American nation have the same interests. England wants Argentine products, including the greatest of all—meat. England has manufactured goods which the Argentine desires.

The only possible way the Argentine could lose out with England would be to play the Axis game. This inevitably would force Britain and the United States to act together in defense of world peace. Neither trade nor anything else is going to be allowed to disrupt the Anglo-American partnership which is essential to peace. Perhaps we couldn't have said as much a few years ago, but times have changed since the day Von Ribbentrop persuaded Hitler to start another world war.

FEAR LAST-MINUTE RUSH BY TAXPAYERS

(By Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, Jan. 28.—Unless more taxpayers file early, the local Internal Revenue office will experience the most terrific rush in its history, Thomas M. Carey, collector of internal revenue, predicted today.

"We expect 1,600,000 to file this year," Carey said. He added that most persons already had paid their obligation through the withholding tax and many would have refunds because they paid too much. He emphasized, however, the taxpayers must file a return in order to obtain a refund credit.

"I was just looking at the 1932 returns and the total for that entire year for the whole district was only $25,000,000," Carey remarked. "We've collected more than that this month on 1943 and the rush has hardly started."

Last year 1,159,000 filers paid $1,338,000,000—both all-time records for the district.

Carey said the time required to file a return averaged from 15 minutes to an hour and a half. "Depending on how complicated the return is and whether the taxpayer has prepared any preliminary figures. If the deputy has to fish all the information out, it takes about twice as long."

PUPILS WORK HARD IN PAPER SALVAGE

The waste paper salvage drive, being conducted by school children in the city this week, is progressing rapidly and large amounts of hitherto unclaimed paper is finding its way into the collection centers.

Householders who may have been annoyed by different groups of children calling at a home already canvassed are asked to be patient, to understand that the youngsters are working diligently to round up every last scrap of paper which may be of value to the war effort, as their government has asked them to do.

Teachers and principals at the various school buildings where collection centers have been established are putting in much work and many hours in readying the paper and cardboard for final shipment.

Those who have papers to donate can help by tying the paper and cardboard into conveniently-sized bundles, and if the home has not been canvassed, they are asked to call the nearest school.

5th Army Ready To Launch Out At Rome, Writer Says

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—A dispatch from Correspondent C. L. Sulzberger to the New York Times today quotes Gen. Sir Harold R.L.G. Alexander, Allied commander-in-chief in Italy, as saying Fifth army forces have established themselves firmly south of Rome and are now in position to take the initiative.

The dispatch, datelined Wednesday aboard a British warship, quoted Alexander as saying "everything is very encouraging. We have

SERVICE VOTE DELAY FLAYED

Congressional Action Delayed Too Long, Bricker Tells Pittsburghers

(By Associated Press)
PITTSBURGH, Jan. 28.—Action to permit service men and women to vote this year has been delayed too long, says Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio who holds they should be able to vote the same ballot as those at home.

The candidate for the Republican presidential nomination declared at a McKinley day dinner of the United Spanish War Veterans here last night.

"An immediate responsibility we owe to the men and women in the armed forces is to give them the right to vote in the coming election. Action now has been too long delayed—handicapping the states in amending their law to meet the need."

"The soldier is entitled to vote the same ballot that we vote at home. He is entitled to vote on the local officials the same as his national candidates."

Legislation to facilitate service voting is pending in Congress. Bricker has declined to call the Ohio legislature into session to change absent voting procedure until Congress acts.

Farmers Are Guests Of Kiwanis Members

Chris Kainrad, a member of the state agricultural committee, was principal speaker at the annual agricultural achievement recognition program of Kiwanis club yesterday at the Memorial building.

Members entertained 34 farmers of the district at the luncheon and meeting. Guests were introduced by Perry McArdle acting in the absence of E. A. Althouse, program committee chairman.

County Agent Floyd Lower of Lisbon presented the speaker who discussed the government's food conservation program, predicted that the Germans lack of food and the inability to keep sufficient food supplies in the right places at the right times for men and workers will aid materially in the Allied victory.

The American farmer, six billion dollars richer today than in 1939 because of reduced debts, mortgages, increased bank accounts and improved property, faces no such depression as he faced at the end of the first World War, the speaker declared, because of the money which the government has made available to farmers for soil and property improvements and increased production education. In 1919, he pointed out, the nation's highest agricultural production was recorded, but the record for 1943 is 40 per cent higher.

President A. P. Morris will be in charge of a business meeting next Thursday at the Memorial building. A meeting of the board of directors is scheduled for 6:30 p. m. Tuesday at the Lape hotel and a session of the boys and girls' committee, headed by Curtis Vaughn, will be held at the Lape hotel Monday night.

Silver Beaver Scout Award Is Presented To J.H. Wilson

James H. Wilson of Salem, who has completed two years as head of the Columbiana Boy Scout Council, was presented the Silver Beaver, scouting's highest award, at the annual dinner-meeting of the council last night in Lisbon. The medal was given in recognition of his outstanding scouting activities.

Wilson is succeeded as president by J. A. Reany of East Liverpool. Other officers elected at the session in the Legion home following a dinner served by the American Legion auxiliary, include:

First vice president, W. S. Mellick, Leetonia; second, John Baunkecht, East Palestine; third vice president, C. W. Arnold of Wellsville; treasurer (re-elected), F. M. Gardner of East Liverpool.

M. H. King of East Liverpool was named county scout commissioner. Presentation of the award to the retiring president was followed by the presentation of Scout club awards and training certificates to qualified scout leaders for their scouting activities and the training course taken during the year.

"Bring Boys Home Sooner"

Gives Up Scooter, Asks Dad To Use Money For War Bonds

Quota: $1,884,900
Sales: $439,878.50

For a long time he had cast envious eyes on his father's motor scooter. And for just as long a time he had pestered his father to buy him one.

When dad finally promised to get this Salem boy the scooter, even though it would set him back $100, the scooter market seemed to have vanished.

This week the boy learned where one could be purchased. His dad and mother talked it over with him one night this week and the boy went happily to bed.

A few minutes later he came down stairs to tell his father that, after getting in bed, he had thought the thing over and had reached a new decision.

Instead of buying the scooter, he asked his father to buy a War Bond "because it will help to bring Dave and the other Salem boys back home sooner" (Dave, in the air service, is the boy's idol).

In revealing this story today, the father admitted that, touched by the boy's decision, he had shed a few tears of pride and joy. And so the $100 will go into a War Bond instead of a motor scooter.

If everyone in Salem were just as willing as this boy to sacrifice a little, the city's quota of $1,884,900 in the Fourth War Loan drive wouldn't be so hard to attain.

Yesterday's sales brought the total to $439,878.50, or 23 per cent of the goal. In the Series E bonds, 4,201 sales brought the total to $160,897.50, or 31 per cent of the goal in this division.

Activities of bondholders in the industrial plants is beginning to show results. In the Mullins plant, where Russell Smith is in charge of the bond drive, sales of $58,500 in E bonds have been reported since the drive opened. The Mullins workers are proud of their showing and promise a much bigger figure before the end of the campaign.

48 Are Examined In Tuberculosis Clinic

The first tuberculosis clinic this year, sponsored by the Columbiana County Public Health League and financed through its sale of Christmas seals, was held yesterday at the Lisbon health office with 48 persons receiving examinations.

The clinic was conducted by Dr. E. E. Kirkwood, Mahoning county sanitarium head, assisted by County Nurses Mary Bruey, Bernice Kessler and Thelma McKenzie.

Of the 48 persons from the county, excluding East Liverpool city, who took the tests, 38 were new cases. The examinations disclosed two active cases of tuberculosis, two apparently arrested cases, four primary healed lesions and one for which sanitarium rest was recommended.

Indicating that part of the value of such clinics is their work of discovering other diseases hitherto undiagnosed, in the tests yesterday one case of anemia, one heart condition and one possible malignancy of the chest were discovered.

Unbelievable Jap Atrocities Leave Americans Dying

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—A pent-up story of atrocities perpetrated by the Japanese army on the captured heroes of Bataan and Corregidor was released by the United States government today in sickening detail.

A joint Army-Navy report broke at last the rigid censorship maintained by the high command on the unbelievable reports that came out of the Pacific, to tell what happened to the men whose valor slowed and delayed the tide of Japanese conquest.

Compiled from sworn statements of officers who survived and escaped, it wrote in shocking terms the code of the Japanese warrior—to subject 36,000 gallant soldiers to deliberate starvation, to shoot in cold blood the thirsty who seek water, to watch sick men writhe and deny them medicine, to horsewhip those who help their fallen comrades, to beat men with two-by-fours, to behead those who try to escape, and to bury tortured men alive.

BOMBERS HIT BERLIN AGAIN

(By Associated Press)
LONDON, Jan. 28.—Hundreds of RAF heavy night bombers touched off fields of flame in Berlin again last night in a possible coup de grace to the Nazi nerve center, previously described by Gen. H. H. Arnold as three quarters destroyed.

The British announcement described the 12th heavy assault of the obliteration campaign as "very strong," a statement borne out in the loss of 34 aircraft in all the night's operations.

Other RAF bombers hit at Helgoland, the Nazis' mighty North sea island fortress, while others struck at unnamed targets in western Germany and northern France and laid mines in enemy waters.

This latest attack in the campaign launched Jan. 18 to knock Berlin from the war might be described as a "mopping up operation." It certainly was not considered here as the last assault planned against the German capital but was looked upon rather as one of the decisive finishing strokes.

The air ministry's communique did not announce the tonnage, but it likely approached the 1,500-ton average of all previous heavy attacks. Berlin has now been heavily and trembled to more than 18,000 tons of bombs in a little more than two months.

Early Swedish reports said the raid left great fires burning in the outer districts of Berlin where most of the capital's heavy industry is concentrated.

Hull Says Enemy Faces Accounting When War Ends

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Secretary of State Hull said today the United States has been gathering all possible information about the treatment of American prisoners held by the Japanese so that war criminals may be punished when the war ends.

At a news conference the secretary was asked whether this government was making a list of Japanese officers in the Philippines directly responsible for the atrocities inflicted upon American and Filipino prisoners with a view of the punishment of war criminals.

He said he could not say specifically with respect to officers in the Philippines but that the government had been ascertaining all information possible.

In touching on several points of the situation disclosed by the joint Army-Navy report of the abuse, brutality and murder of prisoners taken after the fall of Bataan and Corregidor, Hull brought out that:

1. The United States will persevere in pursuit of what the secretary called a righteous undertaking to continue exchanging prisoners or civilian internees with Japan.

2. The United States will persevere in pursuit of what the secretary called a righteous undertaking to continue exchanging prisoners or civilian internees with Japan.

PROTECT FORESTS. BROMFIELD URGES

COLUMBUS, Jan. 28.—Louis Bromfield, Mansfield novelist-farmer, forecasts living conditions for Americans as low as those in Europe unless quick action is taken to save our natural resources.

There is "no more land to take up and destroy and no more forests to tear down," Bromfield told the 63rd annual convention of the Ohio Association of Retail Lumber Dealers last night. Bromfield urged that tax-delinquent, unproductive land in the state be turned over to state reforestation.

"Instead of letting 75 to 80 per cent of the rainfall run off the state and into the Atlantic ocean where nobody wants it while the water table sings alarmingly, forests should be planted to keep the water here."

GOOD OR BAD PSYCHOLOGY?

When War Production Board Chairman Donald M. Nelson says war production is coming along all right, his countrymen do not doubt his appraisal.

When Secretary of War Stimson says on the same day there is "a grave underlying lack of responsibility," his countrymen do doubt his appraisal.

They do not doubt Secretary Stimson's sincerity in making the appraisal. It merely happens that he is trying to sell the theory of a national service act, while Mr. Nelson isn't trying to sell anything; he is talking about facts.

The apparent explanation for these seemingly irreconcilable points of view is a theory that it is good psychology to berate the people for their shortcomings, instead of praising them for their accomplishments.

Thus, instead of pointing with pride to what has been done in spite of the shortcomings it becomes the policy of the government to view with alarm the things that were not done because of the shortcomings. The policy has been pursued consistently since long before Pearl Harbor.

Presumably, those who have kept it in effect are convinced it is working, or they would abandon it. The only other explanation possible is that they honestly believe the American people deserve the abuse they have received; that there actually is something wrong with their morale; that their government is justified in its criticism.

But as long as Mr. Nelson and others charged with responsibility for reporting the facts continue to show faith, the people will take government abuse for what they think it is worth, which isn't much. No one knows more about their shortcomings than the people, themselves, which no doubt explains why they are more optimistic than their critics. They are satisfied to let the record—Mr. Nelson's record—speak for itself.

COMES THE THAW

Struggling in the midst of one, few of us will wonder why a thaw sometimes has been spoken of as a blessing, sometimes as a curse, by writers of all eras. At best, it holds only a promise of release from cold weather, while at worst, which is its usual condition, it is a snare for all the bogged-down life that must be sustained in it.

Comes the thaw and wartime thoughts turn to its sinister military implications. But far from the battle fronts there are sinister implications, too. An unwary step off the sidewalk leads to untidy disaster, not to be taken lightly when footgear is rationed. The foolproofing of automobiles has failed to furnish protection against the ordinary driver's helplessness with a rear wheel in the mud.

In the city during a thaw, thoughts turn to the country, where thaw is universal, with scant protection in the form of hard surfaces. But in the country, it is only reasonable to pity urbanites, who never think of the silver lining in the phenomenon and consequently see nothing in it of either present or future merit.

In either environment, thaw is an immediate and urgent problem of self-preservation. One must guard himself and keep an eye out for children—particularly children. They have no respect for a thaw; they have only the impulse to make it disappear by absorption and thereby hasten the onslaught of spring housecleaning.

POLITICS MUST NOT INTERFERE

Popular resentment of the mishandling of the soldier vote problem in 1944 by politicians who are ignoring the main problem is becoming an important factor. The people are tired of political antics. They want legislation to give citizens overseas on war business maximum voting privileges with minimum fuss and ax-grinding.

The main problem is how to distribute the ballots and get them back. Any sensible non-partisan commission could solve it in a hurry without violating either the letter or spirit of the Constitution. It is disgraceful for congress to be bickering over ancient jealousies and modern frictions. It is far from reassuring to see President Roosevelt, running for a fourth term without benefit of formal announcement, getting into the squabble with both feet, which is the net effect of his special message to congress.

This is one of the times when the people have a right to expect politicians to rise above the merely political level and behave as statesmen. This is one of the times when southern Democrats and northern Democrats, all Democrats and all Republicans should skip their partisanship and get down to the brass tacks of preserving the constitutional rights of citizens who, through no fault of their own, won't be on hand to go to the polls next November.

ARGENTINA LINES UP

Argentina's severance of diplomatic relations with Germany and Japan lines up the last Latin American government to hold out against American hemisphere unity. But aside from this central fact, nothing about the decision is understandable. If it is comprehended by observers on the scene, they have been unable for some reason or other to convey a clear picture.

The government of Gen. Pedro Ramirez, suspected of Axis sympathy and all but accused openly of intervention in the overthrow of a pro-Allied regime in neighboring Bolivia, has taken the decision sought by the United States since the war was carried to this hemisphere. It has done exactly the opposite of what it was supposed to be trying to do. This may be a manifestation of power politics, but it also is evidence of a poorly reported political situation.

Apart from international politics, it is plain that before United States newspaper readers can comprehend what is going on in this hemisphere there will need to be arrangements for more adequate reporting of current developments in Latin America. The Argentinian episode has turned out so confusing that either the events before the fact, or the fact after the events must be only a partly told story.

IT WILL BE A DIFFERENT WAR

When Fort Hayes ceases to be a reception center for army recruits Feb. 21, it will be a different war to thousands in this area. They have used Fort Hayes so much in conversation and mail that it is a synonym for military service. If the telephone calls placed and received, the trains seen off and met, the letters addressed and opened, the information passed along and assimilated—all in the name of Fort Hayes—could be grouped, the result would represent enough effort, emotion, resolution and conviction to keep a small war going indefinitely.

With Fort Hayes gone as a reception center, the processing of recruits may be more efficient, as the war department says, but it's a question whether the recruits thereafter will be able to live up to the standard of their predecessors who are alumni of the camp in Columbus.

THE STARS SAY:

For Saturday, January 29

LUNAR TRANSITS presage the sudden development of affairs which must be quickly grasped and taken advantage of, but this should be manipulated by calm, cool and well-considered action and not impetuous, reckless or incautious tactics. Clever and reasonable grasp of surprise movements, with keen insight and sound judgment assisted by aggressive, energetic and determined effort should win. This should be based on practical insight into problems, constructive skill, and systematic efforts, avoiding excesses, emotionalism and impulse or excitement.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may have a year of unforeseen opportunity for definite progress, with financial increase and personal prestige, but while a swift grasp of this fortunate situation is necessary there is danger from a too reckless attack, with little thought as to the logic or trustworthiness of the inviting circumstances. There may be some subtle factors calling for reasoning and well thought out moves, not wild, impulsive, or emotional conduct. Excitement and agitation may lead to excesses, in waste of energy, funds and other expenditures. Calm and constructive performance even in intriguing prospects is admonished.

A child born on this day while capable, energetic and practical yet may be swept away from its good fortune by rash, impulsive or emotional conduct. Unlooked for opportunities benefit by head work as well as aggressiveness.

Washington Round-up

News and Views, Briefly On What's Going On In Capital

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—A stomach-turning story of Japan's treatment of Corregidor's and Bataan's captured heroes was told by the Army and Navy today.

Locked in military secrecy for nearly a year, since the escape of three men from the Japanese, the account is factual, blunt and apparently lacking in few details. Thousands of American and Filipino soldiers died from starvation, mistreatment, wounds, disease and sheer exhaustion.

The story was told from reports made by Commander Mervyn H. McCoy, USN, of Indianapolis, now on duty in the United States, Lieut. Col. S. M. Melink, Coast Artillery Corps, of Dummore, Pa., now with Gen. MacArthur, and the late Col. William E. Dyess, Air Corps, of Albany, Tex., who was killed in the crash of a fighter plane at Burbank, Calif.

SERVICE VOTE

Sen. Vandenberg (R-Mich) wants the service vote question settled by election time. He has split the Republican opposition to the administration's federal ballot plan by an announcement he will vote for the measure. He supported a previous version of the same bill when it was turned down by the senate late last year.

TAX BILL

Congressional conferees on the $2,000,000,000 plus tax bill are on the home stretch. Only a few miscellaneous items remain to be solved. Yesterday they approved stiff wartime "luxury" taxes, for example jacking current cigarette and night club levies from five to 30 per cent.

RATIONING

Processed foods will stay on the ration lists for a while, says Price Administrator Bowles but beginning Sunday, there will be a reduction in point values on the principal varieties of canned vegetables. Peaches, pears, fruit cocktail and applesauce go up in point value, because of short supplies. Tomatoes go down two points, all dry varieties of beans down four.

Sees Two Million Disabled Americans At End of War

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Two million Americans might be disabled in this war, Millward W. Rice, service officer of the Disabled American Veterans, told a senate subcommittee today.

With 11,200,000 men and women in the armed forces this year, Rice said 850,000 would be disabled if the percentage of casualties in the first world war is maintained.

Rice testified in connection with the mustering-out pay legislation which he said should not be considered as a substitute for future adjusted compensation for disabled veterans.

Rice asked for legislation giving war injured first call on private and government jobs.

About one-quarter of the food in the U. S. is wasted every year.

How To Relieve Bronchitis

Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Recognize Soldier Problems

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

YOUR CONCEPTION of the average soldier or sailor is probably that of a fine, muscular, physical machine. Unless you happen to own one—a member of your own family and then you know he is also a bundle of mental and spiritual problems. The authorities of the armed forces recognize this and have set up methods of trying to help out these troubles. For, while they are not sentimentally concerned over the personal happiness of Private A. or Sailor Z., they are concerned with morale! And in order to keep it at a high level they apply what the man in the street very properly calls psychology.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

Where can the soldier or sailor turn for help in his private problems? The Soldier's Handbook says that if a man wants to see his company commander all he needs to do is to request permission from the first sergeant. The company commander may help, but he has many other duties and he may not want to put his relationship to the soldier on such a personal basis.

The doctor, or psychologist, at a training center has about all he can do to tend to the severe neurotic patients among 6,000 to 15,000 men. So, as by present arrangement, a group of advisers has been appointed, usually non-commissioned officers selected by the sergeant in charge.

The advisers are given training by lectures in the nature of the services they can render, the regulations covering these situations and a fairly intensive course of instruction in mental hygiene.

Some of the problems the advisers have to tackle are as follows: Private X was emotionally distressed, cried frequently and was obviously getting little out of his training. The adviser learned that he was excessively attached to his mother and had never been away from home. Moreover, his mother wrote him almost daily pathetic letters complaining of her sufferings and her difficulties in adjusting herself to his absence. Private X was given an insight into the exaggerated nature of his dependence on his mother, and a frank letter was sent to the mother asking her not to upset the boy with her "gripes". The boy was thrown with groups who undertook to socialize him so that he would become a mature man.

Other Case Histories

Private Y had a great deal of difficulty in drill, marching, and especially in doing double time. The adviser was convinced he was not a neurotic and was not trying to get out of duty. Long questioning revealed that in childhood he had had a fever which was followed by a prolonged weakness of the muscles of the legs. Although this had not been discovered on a routine medical examination, a special consultation revealed that he had once had infantile paralysis which left him with a residual weakness of coordination of his leg muscles and he was reclassified for limited service.

Private Z was unhappy because he felt he was qualified for service in the Intelligence Department. The adviser found he had a Continental background and an excellent knowledge of European languages. On this recommendation the transfer to Intelligence was made and Private Z was happy again.

MARSHAL ROMMEL IS HITLER SYMBOL

General Who Has Fought All of Fuehrer's Battles Faces Invasion

AP Features

Field Marshal Erwin Rommel, the general apparently selected to fight the Allied invasion, is the battlefield symbol for Hitler. He has played a leading part in all the major ground battles in which the U. S. and Britain have been involved. When Hitler invaded Austria in 1938 for his first territorial grab, it was ruddy-faced Rommel who commanded Der Fuehrer's field headquarters. Rommel filled the same role in the Sudetenland, when the Nazis poured into Czechoslovakia for grab number two.

Led Belgium, France Assaults
During the Nazi blitz in Poland in 1939, Rommel took part in the kill. He commanded the armored tank divisions that swept through Belgium and France in 1940. When the Italians got into trouble in Africa in 1941, it was Rommel who got the call to save them. And when the British were chased from Libya deep into Egypt in 1942, it was the wily desert fox who did the chasing.

Rommel was pushed ahead by the Nazi party and was known as a personal friend of Hitler.

Like Der Fuehrer, Rommel built a legend of invincibility around himself. Like Hitler the politician, he specialized in trickery and scoffed suddenly. Like Hitler, he studied the British and pompously lectured their captured generals on military tactics. Like Hitler, he fought his battles by "intuition."

Cage Rommel First

And when the British turned the tide against Hitlerism at El Alamein, it was at Rommel that they struck. He was sent fleeing across Africa. His vaunted Marech Line was broken, and the fox scurried back to Europe while his troops were cornered in Tunisia.

When the Allies moved into Italy, it was Rommel, reportedly, who set up defenses to delay them. And then Rommel was reported moving throughout "fortress Europe," building fences against Allied invasion.

Although the desert fox, like Hitler, has had no success of which to boast for more than 18 months, he still retains his cunning. And it seems likely the Allies must first cage Rommel before they can get to the bigger symbol for which he stands.

HULL SAYS

2. No one here has any accurate idea of how much chance there is of effecting such exchanges in the future.

3. The relief supplies for Allied prisoners held by the Japanese which were delivered by the Gripsholm to a Japanese vessel on the last repatriation exchange about two months ago have not been heard from since that time and Washington has been unable to find out whether they actually were delivered to the prisoners.

Secretary Hull authorized a direct quotation stating his views on the report of atrocities:

"According to the reports of cruelty and inhumanity it would be necessary to assemble together all the demons available from anywhere and combine the fiendishness which all of them embodies in order to describe the conduct of those who inflicted these unthinkable tortures on Americans and Filipinos as reports cite."

Since the beginning of the war, Hull said, the United States has been protesting through the Swiss government all cases of brutality or mistreatment on which information has been received. He implied similar action had been or would be taken in this case.

We will be happy to show you our Kellogg Surgical garments. Appointments made for fittings.

But, he continued, the United States does not get any satisfactory responses from the Japanese, enemy reaction being similar to their response when efforts were first made to get food to the prisoners. Hull said they were finally persuaded to accept some food.

Asked whether this government had consulted with the British on Japanese handling of prisoners, he said American officials had kept in close touch with the British on all phases of the war situation in the Pacific-Asiatic area and he was sure questions of prisoners were covered.

Asked whether publication of the report might be interpreted as meaning "we are now getting tough" with the Japanese since other measures apparently have proved ineffective, Hull said he thought it would be possible to find people who had varying shades of opinion whether this was the beginning of a tough policy and also as to how effective it would be.

JAPS LOSE OUT IN AIR FIGHT

U. S. Pilots Down 16 To 22 Planes In Battle Over Marshalls

(By Associated Press)
PEARL HARBOR, Jan. 28 — A strategy seemingly born of desperation drew top-flight Japanese fighter pilots into the biggest battle of the mounting United States air offensive against the Marshall islands and cost the enemy 16 to 22 planes.

Not an American plane was lost. Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced last night the big action occurred Wednesday, the 21st consecutive day of attack on the invasion-menaced Marshalls by Navy and Army airmen.

The fight grew out of a Seventh Army Air Force attack on Tarao airfield on Maloelap Atoll where nine Mitchell bombers ran into 20 intercepting Zeros. Eleven, possibly 12 Zeros went down. The Mitchells retired but another group of Zeros pursued. Seventh AAF fighters joined with the bombers in the ensuing fight. Five more enemy ships were shot down for certain, and five listed as probabilities.

Extend Air Bows
The Mitchells ran into the fight after going in at 25 to 50-foot level and raking the Japanese with 75 mm. shells and machine-guns. The fight was significant because it marked the first attempt of Japanese airmen, since concentrated raids began on the Marshalls, to pursue retreating aircraft.

The announcement told of Navy fighters extending their Marshall assault to the group's northwesternmost atoll, Eniwetok, where on Tuesday Navy fliers severely damaged and may have sunk an oil tanker and sank one of two escort ships.

With the 16 to 22 planes shot down Wednesday, Japanese plane losses over the Marshalls mounted to better than 200 American losses are put at 22 planes.

Seventh Army Air Force planes again attacked Kwajalein, Maloelap and Mili atolls.

Medium bombers, the announcement continued, hit Tarao on Maloelap Tuesday, bombing air-drome facilities and wrecking a grounded enemy bomber. Here one out of 30 enemy fighters was shot down, three more possibly knocked down and others damaged. All U. S. planes returned.

E. Liverpool Finances Equal To Year's Debts

EAST LIVERPOOL, Jan. 28. — This pottery city will have sufficient funds under its pay-as-you-go-system to meet all operating expenses this year, but no surplus will liquidate $40,000 in over due bills which have accumulated in bygone years, Auditor E. Allan McKeever said yesterday after conferring with the Columbiana county budget commission.

Thanks to a county reappraisal, which it is estimated, has increased property valuations from $22,224,000 to $24,300,000 and a voter-approved boost in a garbage collection tax levy, the municipality's income will be $231,450.

Falls Airline Planned

BUENOS AIRES — The government has ordered the army air force to establish an air line from this capital to the tourist center at the Iguazu Falls in the jungle at the Brazilian frontier. The line will carry only mail until its success has been proved sufficiently to transport passengers. Army pilots will be used, but the government has directed the air force to train civilian pilots for use on the run.

beachhead but was repulsed by British forces in a battle near Carroto, on the Via Anziate 10 miles north of Anzio and 21 miles south of Rome. Allied headquarters announced today.

At the same time the Germans suffered their greatest air defeat of the Italian campaign, losing at least 50 planes in 24 hours in sky battles over the beachhead and over southern France where Flying Fortresses and Liberators struck at three airfields near Marseille and Montpellier and crippled the bases from which Germans raid Allied shipping off the Italian coast.

Heavy German armored trains, backed up almost to Rome, shelled Allied troops in the beachhead area and correspondents' reports said 60-ton Tiger tanks were assembling along the fringes of the beachhead as the enemy recovered from his surprise and mustered resources for a fiery contest for the Italian capital.

Killed by Camp Guard

FORT KNOX, Ky., Jan. 28.—Pvt. Basil George of Cleveland, O., was shot and killed yesterday by Pfc. Harold W. Rowe of Kent, O., a military police guard, when he attacked Rowe with a piece of steel, Fort Knox headquarters reported.

The announcement said George had been sentenced to 25 years imprisonment on a charge of desertion and was being held pending final approval of his sentence.

Rowe claimed he fired in self defense.

VEGETABLE POINT CUTS ARE ORDERED

Principal Varieties Affected By OPA Action; Few Increases Noted

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—There's no chance of processed foods being removed from rationing now, but point values will be lower beginning Sunday on principal varieties of canned vegetables.

Price Administrator Chester Bowles today dismissed reports OPA might decide the supply of home-canned vegetables was large enough to warrant a "point holiday" for the commercial pack.

"The supply of processed food available for rationing is inadequate to meet uncontrolled demand," Bowles said. "The indications are there will be less available this year than last."

Canners' protests that rationing is retarding movement of their stocks were recognized to some extent, however, in the cut of point values on a number of vegetable items.

Soy beans, mushrooms and grapefruit are given a zero point rating in the new table.

Some fruits are raised in point value because of short supplies, while others will require fewer stamps.

Several two-pound sized jars of jams, jellies, preserves and fruit spreads are given point cuts, ranging from eight on grape jam to one on apple base and gape jellies.

The vegetable point cuts, ordered because supplies are moving too slowly or because of improved supply, are as follows for popular sized cans:

Tomatoes, decreased 2, new value 8 points; beets, down 2, new value 2; corn, regular pack, down 2 to 8; corn, vacuum packed, down 3 to 10; spinach, down 2 to 6; leafy greens, down 2 to 4.

Mixed vegetables, down 4, to 8; asparagus, down 2, to 12; all dry varieties of beans, including pork and beans, kidney beans and lentils, down 4 to value 6; fresh shelled beans, including black-eyed peas, down 2 to 6.

Green and wax beans, assigned a zero rating in the last table, are unchanged.

Among the fruits, peaches are raised 2 points to a total of 20; pears go up 4 points from 16; fruit cocktail goes to 24 points, up from 20, and applesauce gets a value of 16 points instead of 12.

Plums and prunes are cut from 10 to 8 points; apricots from 24 to 20, and cranberries and sauce from 10 to 6 points.

Urges Waste Fat Saving

COLUMBUS, Jan. 28.—Gov. John W. Bricker, in a statement made public by the Ohio State Defense council, urged housewives and meat dealers to redouble their efforts to save waste fats to aid the war effort.

Ohioan Only Gunner To Parachute Onto Horse

A U. S. BOMBER BASE IN ENGLAND, Jan. 28.—Tech. Sgt. John M. Webb, an aerial gunner, probably is the only man who ever parachuted from a Flying Fortress onto the back of a horse.

Webb bailed out of a burning Fortress when it was near its base and floated to a field where a horse was grazing. He landed squarely on the animal's back.

"He reared up in the air and I tumbled off his back to the ground," Webb said. "I'm afraid that horse won't be any good for spring plowing."

He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Webb of Yorkville, near Steubenville, O.

The authentic history of Greece dates back to 776 B. C.

Free Irish Lift Ban On U. S. Civilians, Restrict Soldiers

(By United Press)
 BELFAST, Northern Ireland — American civilian technicians employed on projects in Northern Ireland are gloating over their American Army colleagues because they once more are permitted to sample the bright lights and ample food of neutral Eire while it still is out of bounds for the soldiers. Properly impressed with instructions about behavior, the technicians are allowed to sample Dublin's wares, but they are warned not to attempt smuggling any of them back across the border. The ban on Army and Navy personnel crossing the Irish border even in mufti, rankless, particularly in the sentimental Irish hearts of American soldiers whose families have old homesteads in County Cork, Kerry and elsewhere. One American corporation limits to 40 the number of civilian employees who can travel to Dublin each weekend. Each man is given a warning: "Each employee is warned that while in Eire his conduct must be exemplary. It cannot be emphasized too strongly that conversation with strangers on any aspect of the war is dangerous. Remember while in Eire you are on holiday. Discussion of your job is NOT necessary." the company warns. Potential smugglers are tipped that border police are "polite and courteous, yet smart and very tough if necessary."

should have the same "protective" measures of the voters at home. "The avenues of propaganda and truth should be kept open and channels of propaganda closed," he said. "This is not a New Deal war."

The next election will reflect, if the freedom of the ballot is preserved to all, the calm judgment of the people of America unbiassed by propaganda. On post-war governmental policies, the governor said "we will protect our interests around the world and carry out our obligations assumed as a nation among nations of the world."

"The returning soldier," he continued, "does not want a gratuity or a government job, he wants an opportunity in private business." Bricker asserted, "I have great confidence that if we create a free atmosphere, labor will respond. I have great confidence, that if constructive legislation is enacted for the post-war period, that business will fill the gap."

ATROCITIES

prisoners of war have died, mostly of starvation, forced hard labor, and general brutality, as the Japanese have ever reported. "At one prison camp, Camp O'Donnell, about 2,200 American prisoners died in April and May 1942. At Cabanatuan, about 3,000 Americans had died up to the end of October 1942.

The campaign of brutality began as soon as the exhausted American and Filipino soldiers on Bataan collapsed. What was in store for them began with "the march of death." Dyess reported they never would have surrendered had they guessed what lay ahead.

Thousands of prisoners were herded together on the Mariveles airfield at daylight April 10. Some had food, but were not permitted to eat. Those with Japanese money or tokens were beheaded.

Then, in groups of 500 to 1,000, they began the terrible six-day march toward San Fernando in Pampanga province.

Herded Into Pen At Night
A Japanese soldier took Dyess' canteen, gave the water to a horse, threw the canteen away. In a boiling sun, the prisoners were herded through clouds of dust. Men recently killed lay along the road. At midnight they were penned in an enclosure too narrow to allow any of them to lie down.

Before daylight next day the march was resumed. They had no food—water from a dirty roadside stream. Another bullpen at night. When exhausted men fell out moaning, no one was allowed to help—those who still marched heard shots behind them.

On the third day "we were introduced to a form of torture which came to be known as the sun treatment. We were made to sit in the boiling sun all day without cover. We had very little water; several of us went crazy and several died."

"Half-crazed with thirst," the report said, six Filipino soldiers made a dash for a well. "All six were killed."

"On April 15 . . . 115 of us were packed into a small narrow-gauge box car. . . . Many of the prisoners were suffering from diarrhea and dysentery. The heat and stench were unbearable. . . . At Capiz Tarlac we were taken out and given the sun treatment for three hours. Then we were marched to Camp O'Donnell."

"I made that march of about 85 miles in six days on one mess kit of rice. Other Americans made the march of death in 12 days, without any food whatever."

Red Cross Supplies Arrive

Three officers who tried to escape were caught, stripped to their shorts, their hands tied behind them and pulled up by ropes fastened overhead, and kept in this position in the blazing sun for two days, periodically the Japs beat them with a two-by-four; finally one was beheaded and the others shot. By Oct. 26, when Dyess, McCoy and Melnik left Cabanatuan, 3,000 of the American prisoners had died.

The three officers were taken, with 966 other prisoners, to a penal camp at Davao, Mindanao, and put to hard labor. Food was slightly better there, but "the salvation of the American prisoners of war," Dyess reported, was the American and British Red Cross supplies, both clothing and food, that finally began to arrive, months late. The beatings, the murder, the studied mistreatment and humiliation continued. By April 1943, there were 1,100 of the 2,000 prisoners at Davao still able to work.

This was the life from which McCoy, Dyess and Melnik escaped April 4, 1943. The account is based solely on their official reports.

Alliance Man Missing

ALLIANCE, Jan. 28.—Sergeant Roman R. Ziegler has been missing in action over Germany since Jan. 11, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Ziegler were informed today by the War Department. He was a tail gunner on a Flying Fortress.

The South has produced 12 presidents of the United States.

Await War Saga

THE FAMILY of war correspondent Lowell Bennett, shown in their South Orange, N. J., home, will hear one of the great stories of the war when he returns to this country. Representing International News Service, he failed to return from a Flying Fortress raid on Berlin. Word came through that he was a prisoner in Germany. Then came the most startling news—he had escaped and was wandering around in Nazi Europe, as revealed in an I.N.S. copyrighted story smuggled out to the U. S. (International)

Sulfas Aid Fight To Wreck "Great Sneeze Industry"

By SCHUYLER ALLMAN
AP Features Writer

The common cold (sneeze) is the curse of all mankind (sneeze) and this is the season when its cursing dyes the atmosphere indigo.

But before you blow your brains out—either with a pocket handkerchief or pocket revolver—hear that this season there are a few rays of hope spraying through the clouds of misery.

To be sure, no one claims that this ordinary virus, which camps in noses and throats and generates coughs and sneezes, has been whipped. But its tyranny is being attacked, and in the front ranks of the attacks are those miracle-working sulfas.

There is available to the public for the first time, for example, a spray for nose and throat which combines sulfathiazole with a constricting agent. The first fights the germs, the second reduces congestion.

No Cure-All

No cure-all, it was first tested with remarkable results in 1941 in the treatment of sinusitis by Dr.

Frederick M. Turnbull, Los Angeles nose and throat specialist.

Local laws govern the sale of this preparation with or without a physician's prescriptions. When in doubt, consult your druggist.

A new preparation for treatment of throat infections is a sulfa gum, just now reaching the market, which is chewed just like any other ruminating material. It is sold only on prescription.

If you are a common catch-all for wandering cold germs, sneezing and hacking away from autumn to spring, you might try any one of a number of vaccines on the market. These work for a lot of people. The ones taken by mouth should be swallowed under the direction of a doctor, who will tell you when and how often to take the doses.

Prevention and Cure

For less annoying irritations, there are aspirin lozenges and aspirin gum.

All these do not preclude the practical measures for prevention and cure which the human family has been using since the last leech retired from the doctor's office to the swamps to kill no more cold sufferers.

Briefly, as your family physician will tell you, these are prevention, avoid exposure; cure, rest and proper diet.

There are 44,000 postoffices in the United States.

Casey Stengel Resigns Job As Manager Of Boston Braves

CLUB'S DIRECTORS PLAN APPOINTMENT OF SUCCESSOR SOON

President Bob Quinn Ordered to Find New Player Material

(By Associated Press)
BOSTON, Jan. 28.—Freed from possible embarrassment by the unsolicited resignation of the droll Charles Dillon (Casey) Stengel as their manager, the serious-minded directors of the recently reorganized Boston Braves baseball club today were deliberating about his successor.

"Whenever a new group purchases control of a corporation, they have the right to dictate the policy," Stengel, now enroute east from his Glendale, Calif., home, wrote President Bob Quinn yesterday, adding, "and in order that there be no embarrassment, I hereby tender my resignation."

It was accepted immediately by Quinn and the three directors who recently acquired enough additional shares to control the club. Joe Maney, Guido Rugo and Louis Perini, all wealthy Boston contractors.

Quinn said those three had agreed to increase their already heavy investments in the club by taking over Stengel's stock, said to be valued from $35,000 to $50,000.

Under the Stengel management, from 1938-42, the Braves finished sixth, then seventh four times and fifth last season while getting very little financial aid, because of the club's dire straits. Now ample funds are available and Quinn has been instructed to get competent players at almost any cost.

Speculation on a new manager already has centered about such well-known figures as Bucky Harris, Charley Grimm, Gabby Hartnett, Del Baker and Muddy Ruel.

BANTAM FOOTBALL TEAM IS PROPOSED

Jaycees Consider League Of Alliance, Sebring Salem Youngsters

Salem's Junior Chamber of Commerce gave consideration to a proposal for a Salem bantam football team last night at a stag dinner held at the Rumanian club.

The suggestion, made by the Alliance Junior Chamber of Commerce, was presented by Robert Smithyman, president of the Alliance group, to the local chapter and embodied plans for a league organization between Alliance, Salem and Sebring youngsters to be sponsored by the Chamber.

Plans discussed follow the pattern set by the Alliance organization last fall in their Bantam league, which played an Alliance series and then engaged the Akron champions in a Thanksgiving day battle.

Regulations governing the league allow players not over 16 years of age with a maximum weight of 120 pounds. The series, possibly slated for next fall, may include teams from nearby communities and may be financed by the local Jaycee group. Organization of the league is still under consideration in Salem and definite plans will be announced following the next meeting of the club's athletic committee.

A dinner was enjoyed by the members and prizes were awarded to Bill Wagner for bowling honors, and Julius Axelrod for the high game in a bridge tournament. The next meeting is scheduled two weeks from tonight.

Pre-Flight Cadets Set Distance Swim Records

(By United Press)
MORAGA, Cal.—Pool records at St. Mary's Pre-Flight School tumble every week because of the Navy's insistence that every pilot be not only a swimmer but also an aquatic expert.

Lt. Comdr. Wils O. Hunter, director of the athletics for the Air-devils, said the Navy considers ability to stay afloat for long periods more important than speed swimming and hence the Pre-Flight cadets make new swim-for-distance marks every week.

The latest record of seven miles and 255 yards was set by Cadet Howard Swendsen, Elgin, Ill., who was in the water five hours and 55 minutes.

Lt. (J.G.) Ferron C. Loebe, Pre-Flight swimming instructor, took an afternoon off recently to show how easy it all is. He swam 850 widths of the Pre-Flight pool to cover 12 miles and 130 yards in seven hours and five minutes. When he realized he'd be late for evening chow, he ate a chocolate bar enroute.

Fight Results

FALL RIVER, Mass.—Benny Williams, 1147, Newark, N. J., stopped Henry (Kid) Robinson, 152, Philadelphia (2).

PITTSBURGH—Bee Wright, 148, Pittsburgh, outpointed Bobby Simmons, 149, Indianapolis (10); Nicky Thomas, 153, Pittsburgh, outpointed George Sapovich, 162, Johnstown, Pa. (6).

BOSTON—Ralph Zaneli, 149, Providence, R. I., outpointed Izzie Jannazzo, 149½, Brooklyn (10).

Eleven miles below the equator the temperature frequently falls to 112 degrees below zero, Fahrenheit. Above that it gets warmer rather than colder.

Here and There Along Sports Trail

A SUGGESTION

A novel method of boosting the Fourth War Loan drive was originated last week down in Portsmouth by a patriotic and sports-minded grocer, who offered to buy a $25 War Bond for every point made by the Portsmouth Trojans in a basketball game. That is just $50 per basket—a tidy sum.

The idea caught on, and consequently, when Portsmouth defeated Ashland, Ky., 35-32, $17,500 was raised for the drive. The purchases came as a result of an offer by the Civic Forum club to purchase $500 per point for each Trojan marker.

How much per point would a victory over both Alliance and East Liverpool be worth to Salem fans?

STATE IN CLEVELAND

District gridiron fans are promised at least one close look at the Ohio State team next fall. Negotiations are underway to bring Iowa, Wisconsin, Northwestern, or Minnesota to Cleveland's Municipal stadium in October. If that can't be arranged, Illinois has a date with the Buckeyes for Nov. 18, the game to be played either in Cleveland or Champaign, Ill.

BROWN ENJOYS SALEM

A letter, recently received from Paul Brown of Ohio State, expressed the Ohio mentor's gratitude for his opportunity to appear at the Salem High football banquet and went on to say that he had had a fine time and was sincerely hoping he would have an opportunity to come back again soon.

AT MEMORIAL BUILDING

Joe Kelley, who is in charge of the Junior High basketball league, announces plans to choose a 12-man All-Star team from the group, and schedule games with schools from neighboring towns. Kelley also states that this squad may challenge the Freshman squad, coached by Paul Dodez. Class B teams seem to be well coached this year, with practically all of Salem High's varsity basketball squad acting in mentor capacity on the bench for one squad or another. The recently organized dog training class, which met initially every Sunday morning, presents a serious problem for the building's one-man janitor staff.

BOOSTERS MEET SOON

Art Brian, Boosters club secretary, announces arrangements for a special showing of sound pictures of the "World Series of 1943," as presented by the American League of Professional League Baseball Players. The film, narrated by Lieut. Bob Elson, U. S. N. R., depicts the highlights of the most recent baseball series and is leased through arrangements with Lou Fonseca, former Cleveland Indian player, in Chicago. The film will be shown at the annual meeting of the Boosters club in the Memorial building, Feb. 17, when election of officers is scheduled.

Upper Ohio Valley's Class A high schools will hold their annual sectional basketball tournament at Tonto, March 2 and 4. It was announced this week that East Liverpool will have top rating among the six squads included in this billing.

PROS IN ALLIANCE

Professional basketball, long dead in Alliance, was revived Thursday night as a team of ex-Mount Union stars met the Akron Collegians. Among the stars performing for the Alliance quintet were Jack Mills, now Lisbon High coach, Harry George of Minerva, Tom George of Canton, Lieut. Robert Bruce, former Wooster College ace, and Coach Willard Pederson of Mount Union, a player of extensive experience. The Alliance squad also includes members of the executive personnel of the Mount Union Cadet training program. Other games with professional squads are under consideration.

MANY KNOCKOUTS FEATURE GOLDEN GLOVES MATCHES

Kayos Average One Every Three Minutes As Cleveland Event Opens

CLEVELAND, Jan. 28.—Knockouts averaged one in every three bouts as the Cleveland Plain Dealer's 16th annual Golden Gloves boxing tournament opened last night at the Arena.

A crowd of 4,596, highest for a first night since 1930, contributed to a net gate of $5,700—all-time best for an opening night.

Two rings will be used again tonight to pare the field fighting for Northeast Ohio AAU honors to proper size for the semi-finals next Tuesday. The 16 title matches will be staged a week from tonight.

Competition is being conducted in the open and novice division, with winners in the open division moving on to Chicago for the tournament of champions and to Boston for the National AAU senior championships.

Following are opening night results involving out-of-town contestants:

SPORT CHATTER

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—Dr. Phog Allen, Kansas U. basketball coach and chief advocate of higher baskets, isn't a guy you can quote briefly, but his ideas about the court game always get attention.

His latest communication runs some seven closely typewritten pages about such things as 12-foot goals, a six-foot margin for under-the-basket operations, three-point field goals and smaller basketballs.

But the high point is that Phog really has experimented with buckets placed too high for "Mezzanine Hurdles"—those 6-6 to seven-foot boys—to dunk the ball in. "We have had two 12-foot baskets in our gymnasium for 15 years," Allen says. "We use them for the purpose of teaching our boys correct arching of the ball."

REGRETFUL ROOKIE
The finest enconium that could be offered Mark Roth, former Yankee road secretary who died yesterday, was that in some 20 years on that exacting job he never lost a trunk or a newspaperman.

Just by way of emphasis, Harold Parrott, who recently took a similar job with the Dodgers, received his baptism to fire yesterday when he helped shepherd a swarm of scribes to Brooklyn's Bear Mountain training camp. All went well until the return when Parrott was about to fire boss Branch Rickey from the ferry to Brooklyn.

As they trotted toward the parking lot, Harold

THE LITTLE DOG BARKED by ANNE ROWE

CHAPTER NINE
Paulsen whistled softly when I had finished. "So that's it! Spite against Amrose, from way back! I thought the Marleys acted kind of sheepish!"

"The Marleys—your friends—are they in my play?" I asked, hopeful of reinforcements.

Paulsen shook his head. "No. They're in this one. The company here is large enough to work in shifts. One week you rehearse, one week you act. Unless you have a very small part. Swell for the actors and the plays. No overwork—no bad performances."

I wasn't greatly interested in the working system of Fern Cove, except in so far as it concerned my play.

"But you've met some of our cast? Who's in it?" I asked.

And Linda added: "Yes—who's doing the vamp?"

Paulsen answered the second question: "Sondra Marshall. Very beautiful. Good type for the part," with a grimace that showed he had no great opinion of the lady in spite of her beauty and suitability. "She would. She's a fixture here, with a house and all. Bent on becoming the fifth—or is it the sixth?—Mrs. Burns Loring."

Marshall — Loring — something old Mack had said came back to my mind. "He's got one foot in the grave, but you wouldn't notice it when Miss Marshall's around."

"Burns Loring, the millionaire scenic designer?" I wondered. "I thought he was very ill."

"He is. Kidney trouble, I believe," Paulsen agreed. "But a little thing like that wouldn't keep the great lover from taking one more wife, or the beautiful Sondra from wanting to be the last Mrs. Loring. Not the way he is rolling in dough."

It sounded unkind and sneering to me. But Linda must have thought the remark funny. At any rate she laughed—stridently.

I wanted to ask her if she knew Sondra Marshall and disliked her for some reason. But I didn't have the chance. The starting bell rang at that moment, and we were caught up in the crowd surging toward the pillared theatre entrance.

The intermission brought us outside again, into the now very dark grounds, and face to face with the two people we had discussed before entering the theatre: Burns Loring and Sondra Marshall.

turns Loring and Sondra Marshall were talking with Orne Paulsen.

Watching the long first act—the play had only two, each divided into a number of scenes—had given me respect for the Fern Cove Players. The acting had been first-rate, the direction full of original touches, and the scenic effects simply unbelievable—lacking a revolving stage.

One scene especially, toward the end of the act, had baffled me: A triple telephone talk, done in three small blackouts on different levels. High up, in the center, a young man talking into a phone on his desk.

Lower down, toward the left, a girl in a frothy negligee reclining on a chaise longue, receiver in hand. And downstage right, another girl, trim and tailored, standing in a regulation telephone booth. I remembered how it had been done in New York, with quick swirls of the stage, and found the blackout technique much more effective.

"How in the world did they do it? And where do they keep all the scenery when it's not in use?" I marveled as we walked up the aisle.

"Fly it," Linda shrugged, out of the fund of her recent theatrical knowledge. "Bet the stage looks like a junkshop, overhead."

That solution hadn't occurred to me, and only increased my admiration of Burns Loring's work. What a pity he was on the other side of the fence, I thought. He could do so much for my play—if he wanted to.

Five 4-H Club Youths Are Awarded Honors In Special Projects

Outstanding records of wartime achievement in 4-H club agriculture and home economics projects brought special recognition in the form of honor medals to three members receiving these medals are Marjorie Azdell of East Liverpool; Dorothy Mae DeRhodes, Leetonia; Joyce Conkle, Lisbon; Carl Moser, Hanoverton, and Joe Birtalan, Kensington.

Miss Azdell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Azdell, a member of Calcutta Busy Girls 4-H club, St. Clair township, received a medal because of her clothing achievement. Marjorie, winner in both county and district dress revue contests, is eligible to compete in the state contest. She has had seven years of club work and has made a fine record in each project she has taken. Her advisors are Mrs. Clotha Azdell, her mother, and Mrs. Mabel Veness.

Expert Custard Maker

Miss DeRhodes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merl DeRhodes, was a winner of the county dairy food demonstration. Dorothy demonstrated "Making a Custard." During her five years in club work she has taken eight projects. Five of them were nature, three, clothing, and one, foods. Miss Charity Price and Mrs. Dean Price are the advisors of the Farmers' Daughters 4-H club, Fairfield township, of which she is a member.

BACK IN GRANDMA'S DAY colds often called for medicated mutton suet as a "home remedy" to comfort muscle aches, coughing. Today, it's for Penetro, modern medication in a base containing mutton suet. Penetro's double action relieves these miseries—(1) vaporizes to soothe stuffy nose (2) acts like warming plaster right where rubbed on. 25c. Double supply, 35c. Get Penetro.

Soldiers Can Start Zoo

WITH SECOND ARMY ON MANEUVERS, Somewhere in Tennessee—Men at a "Red" infantry command post are becoming eligible for either a membership in the Anti-Cruelty society or the Bronx zoo. After two months of maneuvers in the hills and woods of Middie Tennessee they have accumulated three puppies given to them by farmers, six squirrels, a snake and an assortment of turtles, terrapins, a deodorized skunk, groundhog and two ground squirrels.

Chrysanthemums grow wild in Persia.

New Life Rafts Carry Sun. Wind Burn Preventive Oil

LOS ANGELES—Sun bathers on American beaches have nothing on castaway at sea in the matter of equipment for a perfect sunbath.

One-gallon cans holding oil for protection against sunburn, windburn and salt water spray are now standard equipment for the life-rafts of each U. S. Maritime Commission vessel launched from a California shipyard, according to E. H. Bell, vice-president of the American Can Co., who said that recently his company has furnished cans to be used for this purpose.

Many castaways rescued in the Pacific have told of extreme suffering from sunburn as a result of exposure to intense tropical suns.
